

ABSTRACT

A reflective optical film comprising a layer containing a polylactic acid voided with inorganic particles in a size and an amount sufficient to provide a visible light reflectivity of at least 96%. Optionally the film contains UV particles in amounts sufficient to provide a UV light reflectivity of less than 40 %.

5